

News release

Date: 30 April 2021

Contact: Caroline Belgrave
+246 256 6640
caroline.belgrave@pwc.com

Pages: 2 pages

PwC in the Caribbean and the PwC Charitable Foundation donate over US$100,000 towards the St. Vincent relief efforts 30 April 2021 – PwC in the Caribbean and the PwC Charitable foundation have collectively raised over US$100,000 for donation to the disaster relief and recovery efforts in St. Vincent and the Grenadines.

On 9 April 2021, the La Soufriere volcano erupted explosively, sending ash and gas plumes miles into the sky and affecting neighbouring islands. The eruption—the volcano's first explosive event since 1979—has displaced about 20,000 people and left the entire population of 110,000 people without clean drinking water or electricity.

The partners and staff of PwC firms operating in the Caribbean contributed a total of over US$71,000. The funds, which were raised by firms in The Bahamas, Bermuda, British Virgin Islands, Cayman Islands, East Caribbean (Barbados and St. Lucia), Guyana, Jamaica and Trinidad and Tobago are being donated to the Caribbean Disaster Emergency Management Agency.

In addition, The PwC Charitable Foundation approved a grant of $30,000 to the St. Vincent and the Grenadines Red Cross, through the American Red Cross. And a donation of $10,000 was made by L&F Indemnity Limited (L&F), the Bermuda-based captive insurance company for the PricewaterhouseCoopers network of firms.

Frazer Lindsay, CEO of PricewaterhouseCoopers Caribbean Region Ltd., said: “We stand in solidarity with the people of St. Vincent and everyone affected by La Soufriere’s eruption. As we have done in the past with natural disasters in our region, our people have rallied quickly to demonstrate our support for those most in need and we thank them for their tremendous efforts.”

Mike Bynoe, Territory Leader, PwC East Caribbean said: “We are one Caribbean family and at this time our thoughts are with our Vincentian brothers and sisters. Although we are grateful that no lives have been lost, we recognise the magnitude of the economic, social and environmental challenges they and others are facing as the volcano continues to erupt. The recent flooding and subsequent mudslides have also added to the country’s misery, affecting areas already heavily damaged by the volcano. Their road to recovery will be long but not without support from us and many others across the globe. Our teams have been incredibly generous in respect of the donations that they have made to this initiative and I would like to add my heartfelt thanks to them.”

Mike Bynoe, PwC East Caribbean Territory Leader hands over a cheque for US$80,000 to Elizabeth Riley, CDEMA Executive Director to help support relief efforts in St. Vincent.

ENDS

About PwC

At PwC, our purpose is to build trust in society and solve important problems. We're a network of firms in 155 countries with over 284,000 people who are committed to delivering quality in assurance, advisory and tax services. Find out more and tell us what matters to you by visiting us at www.pwc.com.

PwC refers to the PwC network and/or one or more of its member firms, each of which is a separate legal entity. Please see www.pwc.com/structure for further details.

© 2021 PwC. All rights reserved.