PwC Guyana announces new Country Manager and other local hires

Georgetown, Guyana: PwC Guyana, which opened office in Georgetown last year, announces the appointment of Country Manager, Saeed Rahaman, from January 2021.

Saeed joins the firm to support the Managing Partner and provide oversight for the operations of the Guyana firm. Prior to joining PwC, Saeed worked in assurance and tax locally for approximately 12 years including 4 years as an audit partner. He has extensive experience working with some of the largest local and international firms in Guyana.

Angelique Bart, Managing Partner, PwC Guyana, said: “The PwC Guyana leadership team is looking forward to the valuable experience and passion which Saeed brings to the Guyana firm, the network of PwC firms operating in the Caribbean, and the global PwC family.

Saeed’s appointment complements that of other recent local hires who joined the firm on 1 February 2021.

Of his appointment, Saeed added: “I am honoured and excited to be taking on the role at such a dynamic time for the firm and Guyana. I look forward to working with a professional and talented PwC team who are dedicated to providing high quality and differentiated service offerings, focused on our clients’ most important projects and challenges.”

PwC Guyana provides professional services which include Assurance and Audit services as well as non-audit Accounting Services; Tax Compliance and Corporate Secretarial services; Advisory Services including consulting, deals, forensics and digital transformation; and Risk Assurance Services including internal audit, business continuity planning and cyber security.
